FEW WOMEN REGISTER AFTER JUDGE'S RULING

Only About Score of New Names Added to List in Petersburg.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, May 6.—Despite the fact that Judge J. M. Mullen had ruled that tomorrow in the last day in which poll taxes may be paid, by both men and women, in order to qualify and vote in the August election, there has been no rush on the city treasurer's office. Only about a score of new names have been added to the list.

Women residents of the city are much concerned over the court's ruling that tomorrow, instead of August 2, is the last day in which the poll taxes may be paid, in order to vote in August. Mrs. Mullen, who has been brought to bear upon Judge Mullen, both from the city and outside, but he remains firm in his decision.

STUDENTS WIN WAGER ON WASHINGTON HIKE

C. B. Horsley Walks From Charlottesville to Capital, Arriving 24 Minutes Ahead of Schedule.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., May 6.—Cammeron B. Horsley, hero of the Charlottesville-Washington hike, will return early tomorrow morning from the capital, and will be warmly greeted by his fellow students at the university.

Young Horsley won his $150 wager by a close margin. He reached Washington at 11:51 this morning, just twenty-four minutes before the expiration of the time limit set, fifty hours.

After phoning news of his arrival to Lee Williams, a student friend, Horsley headed for the New Willard, and went to bed to get some much needed sleep. In the nearly fifty hours required to conclude his hike, Horsley got but two hours sleep.

With the exception of some sore feet and stiff joints, he reported his condition as excellent. He wore out the soles of his shoes, and had to get a new pair en route.

PETERSBURG STOREKEEPER HELD ON CHARGE OF ARSON
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, May 6.—The charge of attempting to burn his grocery store in order to collect the insurance, J. T. Allen, colored shopkeeper, was arraigned in Police Court here today and held for grand jury investigation. He was released on bail.

TYPHOID FEVER CLAIMS VICTIM IN PETERSBURG
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, May 6.—The first death in this city of a resident from typhoid fever since October, 1919, occurred today when a 20-year-old negro boy, one of a family of five suffering with the disease, died at the Petersburg Hospital.

While there have been three deaths from typhoid in Petersburg during the past nineteen months, all were non-residents and were brought here for treatment from the surrounding counties.

Six persons, all colored, are now suffering from typhoid fever in this city.

100 Cases Whisky Stolen in Kentucky.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—One hundred cases of whisky, valued at $5,000, was stolen last night from the Downing Distillery, at Tyrone, Anderson County, according to reports received here today. Ten masked men held up two guards at the distillery, the reports said, and after loading the liquor on four motor trucks made their escape.

80 ATTEND PRESBYTERIAN MEETING IN BLACKSBURG
BLACKSBURG, Va., May 6.—About eighty delegates from the counties and cities within the bounds of Montgomery Presbytery are attending the twentieth annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary in the Presbyterian Church at Blacksburg.

Provision to the meeting and arrangements had been made for the accommodation of all delegates by the housing committee, Mrs. E. R. Price and Mrs. S. R. Pritchard, and the visitors were met at the trains by the reception committee, Mrs. W. G. Conner, chairman. Cars were provided for their transportation to the homes assigned them.

$10,000 SUIT ENTERED BY DEAD MAN'S ATTORNEYS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., May 6.—Charging that Robert G. Lassiter & Co., Inc., contractors; the Virginia Railway and Power Company and the City of Norfolk, were negligent in leaving unlighted an excavation at Thirty-eighth Street and Myers Avenue, into which Robert M. Saunders, passenger in a for-hire automobile, was plunged and fatally injured early Christmas morning, J. S. Lawrence, administrator of Saunders' estate, has brought suit against all three for $10,000. The suit was filed in the City Circuit Court by Savage & Lawrence, attorneys for the plaintiff.

Saunders was riding out Myers Avenue about 2 A. M. December 25, 1920, in a for-hire car, when it ran into an excavation that had been made by the Lassiter company, plaintiff, in connection with the Virginia Railway and Power Company. Both parties and the city are responsible for the death of Mr. Saunders, which ensued on the same day because they left the excavation unguarded and unlighted.

REPORT 2 WHITE MEN ON LYNCHBURG SLACKER LIST

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 6.—The draft-slacker list for this city is understood to include the names of two white men and a considerable number of negroes. One of the white slackers is said to be here now, but the other disappeared during the war and his family does not know now where he is.

The negro list is made up largely of laborers who were imported here for work on the construction of the Williams viaduct, many of whom left before there was a draft here.

Reduce Dry Agent's Force.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 6.—The Federal prohibition raiding squad here has been cut from five to three men for the remainder of the fiscal year, the reduction, it is said, being made to keep the department within its appropriation until the close of the year, June 30. Deputy Collectors R. H. Drummond, Jr., and R. M. Coffey resigned recently to go into business and this left the staff here at its intended size without cutting men off.

Where Everything used in making Ice Cream is as pure as Chalmers' Gelatine you have nothing to fear

Gelatine has a high food value. It not only furnishes energy for the body, but it helps the milk to build up tissue, for the sick, for the well, and especially for growing kiddies.

Gelatine improves the quality of Ice Cream; prevents ice crystals which make a cold, grainy ice cream.

A few ounces of Gelatine in ten gallons of ice cream makes it "stand up" even in hottest weather; makes it prettier and nicer to serve.

Chalmers' Gelatine is of the highest purity; a crowning dish for any table.

But Gelatine costs money; so some makers of ice cream are glad to say "we have cut it out."

The presence in ice cream of limited quantities of "Pure Food Gelatine" is sanctioned by both State and National Pure Food Laws, and recommended by the Associations of Ice Cream Manufacturers.

Hundreds of Southern Ice Cream Manufacturers use Chalmers'.

AUTO PLUNGES THROUGH BRIDGE INTO STREAM

Driver Kicks Way Out and Escapes as Car Sinks in 15 Feet of Water.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, Va., May 6.—Blinded by the bright lights of another car which was approaching, the taxicab driven by Charles McPherson, early today plunged through the railing on the Riverview Bridge into fifteen feet of water.

McPherson, who was the only person in the car, broke his way out of the car as it was sinking by kicking the glass out of the door and swam ashore. He was picked up and brought to the city little worse for his experience, by another automobile.

"I'LL PRAISE IT AS LONG AS I LIVE"

Welch Tells of Wife's Wonderful Recovery Since Taking Tanlac.

"When my wife began taking Tanlac she hadn't been able to do any of her housework for a year; but now she is so well and strong she takes care of the house with perfect ease," said B. D. Welch, well-known engineer for the Virginia-Western Power Co., Clifton Forge, Va., residing at Iron Gate, Va.

"My wife certainly was in an awful bad state of health for four years. Her stomach was so disordered she could scarcely eat anything, and nothing agreed with her. After eating she bloated all up with gas and just suffered agony for hours. She was so nervous it would upset her completely if I happened to brush my feet a little loudly when I came home at night, and was almost impossible for her to sleep any. Her back and limbs hurt so bad at times it looked like she would go distracted. She lost weight until she was almost a living skeleton, and was so weak I began to think she never would be well and strong any more.

"Well, her condition got so bad that even while at my work I was constantly worrying and wondering if nothing could help her. Finally I began hearing so much about Tanlac I decided to get her to try it, and it certainly has done wonders. She has a fine appetite now, and everything agrees with her so well she has gained several pounds in weight, and all her strength has come back to her. In fact, she is once more a well and happy woman, and I'll praise Tanlac the longest day I live."—Adv.
